

Balancing Security and Justice

Please join us for this year's first evening discussion

Terrorism: Past and Future

A Perspective from the Federal Courts

<http://law.fordham.edu/nationalsecurity.htm>

Panelists

The Honorable Vincent Briccetti

United States District Judge for the Southern District of New York

Justine Harris

Partner at Colson & Harris LLP, former Assistant Federal Defender

Marshall Miller

AUSA for the Eastern District of New York, Adjunct Faculty at Fordham Law School

John Miller

Senior Correspondent for CBS News; has held leadership positions at the NYPD, the FBI and the Office of the Director of National Intelligence

David Raskin

Partner at Clifford Chance, former AUSA for the Southern District of New York, where he served as Chief of the Terrorism and National Security Unit

Moderator: Karen Greenberg

Director of The Center on National Security at Fordham Law School

September 27, 2012

7:00 pm.

Fordham Law School

Lincoln Center Campus

140 West 62nd Street

McNally Auditorium

A brief reception will precede the event.

Panelists will be discussing the following:

- What lessons have federal practitioners learned about prosecuting terror crimes?
- Have federal prosecutions of terror suspects refined the notion of a terror crime?
- What is the future of terror investigations and terror charging in the U.S.?
- Can lessons learned in international terror prosecutions be applied to recent rash of "domestic terror" violence?

PLEASE RSVP BY EMAILING NATIONALSEcurity@LAW.FORDHAM.EDU

33 West 60th Street | New York, NY 10023 US

This email was sent to squatrone@gmail.com. To ensure that you continue receiving our emails, please add us to your address book or safe list.

manage your preferences | opt out using TrueRemove®.

Got this as a forward? Sign up to receive our future emails.

